

CASE STUDIES

A growing manufacturer needed to be able to easily scale employee size, quickly add and exit employees, and have very minimal computer infrastructure present at the facility. We provide the flexibility, and management to make this cloud based solution possible. We provide procurements, computers, software, help desk, and IT management.

A large construction company needs detailed support at all hours and the need to improve their reporting so that they can more accurately estimate jobs. We provide detailed support and business intelligence solutions including custom reporting apps, and SharePoint dashboards that helped them quote more accurately put them on the cutting edge.

A popular center city restaurant needs quick, personal response to technical problems in addition to web site, promotions, social media, and marketing. We provide these services and the profits from marketing efforts far exceed our costs.

Smooth Sailing For Your Company

Our job is to anticipate the technology storms that are headed your way. CGPC keeps your technology resources performing dependably... looking ahead for threats and beyond for IT opportunities...

We are a "lifesaver" when an IT storm threatens your business but—more importantly—we see the storms ahead and steer your business around them while looking for opportunities to help you reach your goals.

Technology is evolving quickly and it's hard for companies to keep up. We form an extension of your team to provide the technology advantages that make us a valuable partner, and a value added service, not an expense.
